EDITH COWAN UNIVERSITY

Learning Takes Centre Stage

Uniting Education, Performance & Production in One Connected Campus

Industry: Higher Education, Performing Arts + Media Production
Location: Perth, Western Australia
Awards: Higher Ed AV, Inavate APAC, AVIA Awards

Edith Cowan University set out to create a flagship City Campus where teaching, rehearsal, performance and media production could operate as one connected ecosystem. The university needed professional-grade theatre and broadcast environments that would give students hands-on experience while supporting live performance, content creation and industry engagement.

WHAT WE DELIVERED

- Seven flexible performance theatres for teaching, rehearsal and public events
- Broadcast studios, control rooms, editing suites and podcast spaces
- Integrated audio, lighting, rigging, control and networking infrastructure
- End-to-end recording, streaming, editing and content distribution workflows

IMPACT

ECU City Campus brings creative education and professional practice together, giving students experience with industry-standard tools and workflows. The connected environment expands opportunities for multidisciplinary learning, public performance, hybrid delivery and industry collaboration while helping students move confidently from the classroom into creative careers.
